If there are no objections, we can cancel today's meeting.

I got back the comments on the RFP from Legal. There were only about four changes, all of them minor.

The following is an e-mail I got from Jim Royall.

Jeff, here's some news I just got from EduQuest:

EduQuest has a new employee, Sander Bellman, who was Dir., Chemistry Labs (Atlanta Region) for the FDA. He received a copy of your LIMS RFP last week and will be giving us some written feedback sometime in the next two weeks. He will be onsite at PM beginning Monday, Feb 16th and will be available for meetings, etc. by Wednesday of that week.

Jim

I will try to speed up the EduQuest review of the RFP if possible. Legal will not send out the confidentiality agreement until the EduQuest comments are incorporated in the RFP so our time table keeps getting pushed back.

Let me know if you think it is worthwhile to have a meeting with the EduQuest people and I will set it up with Jim Royall.
